

A New Generation of Energy

Delaware Public Service Commission
861 Silver Lake Boulevard
Cannon Building, Suite 100
Dover, Delaware 19904

March 19, 2007

Dear Chair McRae:

Conectiv Energy wants to thank the Commission and the other state agencies for their continuing respect for the importance of protecting the confidentiality of privileged information of participants in the competitive markets. We have reviewed the Staff's March 13, 2007, recommendations regarding further release of information and will not be raising any objections to those recommendations.

In addition, Conectiv Energy has decided to go further than the Staff's recommendations and to withdraw its objection to release of additional proprietary information contained in its proposal. We are confident that the Commission and the other state agencies will agree with the Independent Consultant and direct Delmarva to enter into a power purchase agreement with Conectiv Energy under the terms of its proposal. However, after listening to the comments submitted by the public during the three days of public hearing, we are concerned that, without release of additional information, the public will not fully understand the reasoning for such a determination. Therefore, I am hereby notifying you that Conectiv Energy is voluntarily withdrawing its objection to release of any and all proprietary information contained within its original proposal. By releasing the entire un-redacted version of our proposal we hope to make the public aware of its numerous beneficial components and the reason why it received its very favorable ranking by the Independent Consultant.

This voluntary release of proprietary information contained in Conectiv Energy's proposal should, in no way, be viewed as a waiver by Conectiv Energy of the FOIA protections as they might apply to the same or similar information contained in other documentation submitted in this proceeding or in any other proceeding before the Commission or any of the other state agencies.

Sincerely,

I. David Rosenstein
General Counsel
Conectiv Energy
